

BERKELEY SPRIG - WALLPAPER

This delightful sprig design was discovered by John Fowler when redecorating 44 Berkeley Square, he dated the pattern to the mid-18th century and it became a hallmark of the firm through the 80's and 90's.

The images shown are examples from the archive as inspiration.

This is a bespoke print so a trial is recommended which may incur an additional cost.

Where a coloured background is specified the price is by quotation.
